The announcement further says: "These training schools will be run continuously, a new class being admitted monthly. The course of training will be four months at the infantry and machine gun schools, and about three months at the field artillery school. Only such applications as are approved by the professors of military science and tactics will be forwarded to the commanding officer of the Central Officers' Training School. The commanding officer will notify from time to time such applicants as may be needed, directing them to report at a designated training school on a specified date.

"In the selection of men to attend these training schools preference will be given to qualified enlisted men so long as they are available."

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, July 11.—Adoption tomorrow by the Senate of the House resolution empowering the President to acquire the Telegraph-Telephone systems and a summer vacation for Congress, with national wartime prohibition legislation postponed until after a recess was the program framed to-day by Congressional leaders.

It is believed possible that prohibition managers will consent then to an adjournment until August 12.

BELGIAN RULERS ATTEMPT TO RAID AMERICAN TRENCHES AND LEAVE DEAD

THREE SEAPLANES GUARD ALBERT AND ELIZABETH—BRITISH WELCOME THE "GUESTS FROM THE SKY."

London, July 11.—A royal air escort of three Belgian seaplanes guarded King Albert and Queen Elizabeth on their flight over the channel from Belgium to England Saturday morning on a trip which marked the first time in history that any ruler has ever made a flight from one country to another.

The royal couple traveled in separate planes, each operated by a Belgian army aviator.

On the British side of the channel the king landed first near a British war ship off Dover. The queen descended soon afterwards, her seaplane also landed near a war ship.

They started from the Belgian coast and made the trip to England in about fifty minutes. The purpose of their visit to England was to attend the silver anniversary of King George and Queen Mary on Saturday.

This is the first time since the war began that King Albert has visited London and virtually the first time since August, 1914, that he been outside his native land. The only time that King Albert has been outside of Belgium was during one or two informal trips into France. Queen Elizabeth was most enthusiastic about the voyage, telling about it wherever she went and whenever any one asked the details of the trip, despite the fact that she had not ridden in airplanes before, she had never been over the sea.

The king, who has for a long time taken much interest in airplanes, has made many flights so that among friends in London he did not seem to think there was anything particularly novel about his flight.

ONWARD MARCHING.

Thirteen states have already ratified the national prohibition amendment, and did it in less than 6 months from the time the first state took action. Of the 1811 members of legislature voting on the proposition 1488 voted for ratification while 323 voted against it. In other words, 82 per cent. of the peoples representatives want national prohibition while 18 per cent. are opposed to it.

With American Forces on the Marne, July 11.—A large German patrol, which attempted a raid on the American trenches on the Marne front this morning was broken up and routed in confusion. The German dead aided the Americans in establishing the identification of the new German units.

In recognition of the valiant services of the American troops who stopped the German rush on Paris in the second battle of the Marne, the French authorities have officially changed the name of Bois De Belleau, which the Americans captured, to Bois De La Brigade De Marne, and ordered all maps changed accordingly.

Both the French and British made further gains last night, the French on the west side of the Marne salient and the British south of the Somme.

The repeated local attacks on the French front have by degrees straightened the German salient out and given the French much stronger positions.

The Italian offensive in Albania continues to gain headway. The advance so far has been about fifteen miles and the movement is still unchecked.

Strengthening their line between the Marne and Aisne, where it is believed the Germans will attempt to break through to Paris in the resumption drive, the French have begun to attacking appreciable results in a series of sharp local thrusts. The latest victory to show a methodical advance was the capture of the town of Corey, east of Metz forest, which straightens out a new strong defensive line and gives the French a great opportunity for observation of activities behind the enemy lines.

DESERTER IS TAKEN TO CAMP

Sheriff Cliborne left for Camp Taylor last night with Pvt. Jim Hodges who left Camp Shelby some time ago and has been at his father's in the northeastern part of this county. He was arrested and brought to Hopkinsville yesterday morning. Officers had attempted to arrest Hodges once or twice before but had failed. Yesterday morning Mr. Lem Davis, deputy sheriff, reached Hodges' home about sun-up and found him in bed asleep. He had gotten in from Todd county about 3 o'clock yesterday morning and was sleeping soundly.

When Hodges learned that Mr. Davis was present for him, he made no resistance or effort to escape but took Mr. Davis' advice to return to camp and obey orders. Hodges came to town dressing in his uniform and looking real soldier like. A $50 reward was offered for his arrest.
